

Numerical methods for oscillatory delay differential equations

Md. Abdul Malique

Department of Mathematics, University of Chester,
Parkgate Road, Chester, CH1 4BJ, UK

In this paper we consider oscillatory functional differential equations and, particularly, delay differential equations. We present characterisations for delay equations to be oscillatory and consider the effectiveness of numerical approximations for reproducing oscillatory behaviour in the resulting difference schemes.