

Identity

The Library and Information Center at the Athens University of Economics and Business was established in 1920 and is the oldest economics academic library in Greece. It meets and serves the information needs of the academic community and, at the same time, however, is also a public library that is open to the broader public for on-site access to the Library's printed and digital collections.

Mission

The Library's mission is to enhance and support the educational and research activities of the University, its contribution to the development, management, supply and accessibility to specialized information in the wider national and international community and its substantial participation in each activity for education and culture.

Librarians at AUEB:

- Support research
- Guide and educate on how to locate quality information
- Save time for researchers
- Select and propose the highest quality information resources
- Manage and promote the University's research production
- Preserve AUEB's history
